

Wireline excellence hasn't changed.

It simply has a new name.

Ultraline—Canada's premier cased-hole services provider—is now part of Halliburton, a company that's served the Canadian energy industry for over 80 years.

Together, "ultra" service excellence and product reliability are perfectly matched. This "new" company will deliver an expert Ultraline workforce, substantial cased-hole services and unequalled knowledge of local resources, but will also tap into Halliburton's proven openhole capabilities.

For more information about Halliburton's Wireline and Perforating offerings, please visit www.halliburton.com/wireline.