Supplier Diversity

The energy to build success
through supplier diversity

Our Commitment

Over the years, our commitment to a diverse supplier base has never wavered and is considered an integral part of our long-term business strategy. Just as our employees come from diverse backgrounds, so too must our suppliers.

Supplier diversity gives Halliburton a competitive advantage in a global marketplace. Our Supplier Diversity program provides business opportunities for minorities, women and small business enterprises that offer quality products and services on a competitive basis. We also believe it is vital to develop and promote the economic growth of diverse suppliers through mentoring, technical assistance and counseling.

Further, we strongly encourage our prime suppliers to develop business relationships with qualified diverse suppliers. Prime suppliers who subcontract to minorities, women or small business enterprises are viewed as providing added value to our Company.

"LegalWATCH is helping Halliburton manage legal risk. And Halliburton is helping me roll out my training program to other companies. We've been working together 4 years, and I'm more impressed every day. Halliburton is always there with scholarships, mentoring and creating solid business opportunities."

Jean Johnson
President
LegalWATCH

To Become a Valued Supplier

Independent third-party certification is required for diverse suppliers. Our preferred third-party certifiers are the National Minority Supplier Development Council, the Women's Business Enterprise National Council and the U.S. Small Business Administration. From time to time, we may also consider other certifications that meet our standards.

Minority- or women-owned businesses do not have to be certified to do business with Halliburton. However, these firms must be certified to receive assistance, referrals or be recognized as part of Halliburton's Supplier Diversity program. For more information, visit our Web site at www.halliburton.com/supplierdiversity

"As a national supplier of top-tier IT, accounting and financial consultants, we're in our third year of a strong, rewarding IT relationship with Halliburton. Not only has the support from their Supplier Diversity group been nothing less than impressive but working with Halliburton has also led to great contacts at other major corporations!"

Pamela Chambers O'Rourke
President & CEO,
Icon Information Consultants, LP

"Founded in 1977, we're a Native American-owned oilfield and industrial supply company with 965 employees, 130 North American locations and a 10-year relationship with Halliburton. Having an industry leader like Halliburton as a customer provides us with so much business—and constructive feedback—makes us a much more competitive supplier to the marketplace."

"Micro-Smart is an engineering company specializing in the design and manufacture of downhole instrumentation and downhole tools. Before getting work with Halliburton, business was good—but modest. Halliburton has definitely had a major, positive impact on our growth. And they've helped us realize our goal of working for leading international companies."
